

MSD Animal Health Research Bursary 2023

Investing in the future of the veterinary profession through research

Student Research Bursary Additional Information

MSD Animal Health is now welcoming applications for its 2023 MSD Animal Health Research Bursary for veterinary students. The MSD Animal Health Research Bursary is designed to provide financial assistance to enable veterinary students to carry out their own veterinary research project. We are looking for students who would like to apply for a bursary and welcome applications from students who will complete their research project within 24 months.

Students who wish to apply for these bursaries will be required to submit a completed application form outlining their proposed research project to MSD Animal Health no later than 27th October 2023. Each application should cover the aims, objectives and hypothesis of their research project, as well as details of the methods of research, expected outcomes and budgetary requirements. The application form is available for download on MSD Animal Health's Research Bursary web page (<https://www.msd-animal-health-hub.co.uk/Bursary>). Applicants will be informed as to whether they are successful or not.

The successful applicant will be invited and expected to attend the annual MSD Animal Health Research Bursary Day to present their research conclusions. Depending on circumstances, this event may take place online or at MSD Animal Health's headquarters in Milton Keynes.

The successful applicants will also be invited to the MSD Animal Health Research Bursary Day in 2024 to present their research projects. If circumstances allow, MSD Animal Health will host an evening meal with fellow bursary recipients, and hotel accommodation on the preceding evening will be organised and covered by MSD Animal Health. Each bursary winner will be required to make a 20-25 minute presentation outlining the findings of their research. Based on the content of these presentations and the written reports an additional £1,000 top prize will be awarded for the best research project and a £500 runner-up prize. The two prize winners will have the opportunity of receiving up to a further £500 award if they present their findings at a relevant UK veterinary conference. This will be facilitated by MSD Animal Health with funding of hotel accommodation and delegate registration. The reports will also be featured in MSD Animal Health's company and veterinary industry publicity.

Successful applicants whose research projects are completed within 24 months will be required to produce a 1,500 word written report and relevant photography within 24 months of project start date. Good photography is an essential part of your report as it may be used for promotional purposes. Please ensure you provide high quality images that could be used in the veterinary media.

We look forward to receiving your application for 2023. In the meantime, if you require any further information or have any questions please do not hesitate to email: msdahbursary@msd.com

Nicole de Rosa

Veterinary Advisor

Co-ordinator MSD Animal Health Research Bursary